Lander is known as a city of many influences. With its history as the first paid rodeo host over 100 years ago, Lander's western influence blends both old and new. The area is culturally diverse: Native American influence merges with Lander's pioneer, mining and prospecting history. Lander is also home to the National Outdoor Leadership School (NOLS), and is known as a recreation mecca for all-season outdoor enthusiasts.

Lander is a city of art and activity. Known as the "City of Bronze", Lander is filled with beautiful bronze sculptures depicting its many influences. Annual events highlight the year, including the Brew Festival, International Climbers' Festival, Annual One Shot Antelope Hunt, Pioneer Days and Heart of the West Invitational Art Show & Sale. Visit the Lander Chamber's web site (under "Resources" at right) for a list of dates.

With its geographical proximity to the Wind River Mountains and gorgeous Sinks Canyon, Lander is a perfect destination for the beautiful outdoor wedding of your dreams. Colorful mountains, valleys and lush scenery greet you at every turn. Beautiful locations are within a short driving distance, and your guests will enjoy every square inch of scenery on their journey. When you choose to marry in Lander, you are inviting your guests to experience some of Wyoming's beautiful natural majesty.

Of course, you are not only shopping for the most beautiful wedding location; you are shopping for amenities, service and style. Lander offers many options in a friendly, hometown environment. Contact the Lander Chamber of Commerce (contact at upper right), or Wyoming Weddings, for assistance in locating reception and ceremony locations, catering, floral and much more.

Erik & Audra Wood, Lander

Lander residents Erik & Audra Wood created their dream wedding with a breathtaking outdoor ceremony in the Sinks Canyon near Lander. "Getting married in Lander was such a beautiful experience," Audra shares. "The community offers wedding supplies from invitations to cakes to photos. Our wedding ceremony was held in Sinks Canyon right next to the Popo Agie River. The view was breathtaking and the sounds of the river and birds were unforgettable."
